MERGERS & ACQUISITIONS

As part of an organization's larger Strategic Plan, Mergers and Acquisitions (M&A) provide an opportunity to expand and grow a business more rapidly than through organic options. The opportunity to grow market share, to increase geographic footprint, and to expand into new market segments are a few of the reasons why M&A can be attractive to firms of all sizes. A successful merger or acquisition will bring benefits for years to come to your organization.

A successful M&A Strategy is a marathon, not a sprint. As with a marathon, training and planning can mean the difference between a successful transaction and one that expends time and resources, but leaves you alongside the road wondering what went wrong.

Planning: EGP professionals have real-world experience in developing comprehensive Strategic Plans for companies large and small which help companies decide which approach to M&A is best for them. Through thoughtful dialogue with company ownership and management, EGP is able to help firms develop both short-term and long-term goals and objectives and a
